the snail disclaimer:
It is pretty well known both far and wide, that we here at markdvorak.com are still a little behind the times. You? We could have signed up for a PayPal account, or enrolled in an expensive internet service that would make our store as slick as can be. The fact is we don't do so much internet business that we still can't be pleased to pursue things the way we've been doing them all along. We still enjoy heading down to the post office box nearly every morning and reading your hand-written notes and filling your hand-written orders. It's a kind of fun that not everyone gets the chance to appreciate. If check writing is cumbersome, you can order MD's merchandise using your credit card from a variety of places including Tunes, Waterbug.com, Bookbaby.com,Amazon.com, BestBuy.com, CDBaby.com, and so forth. Head on back to the home page and access those fine outlets as you please.
